REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding claims 1, 16, 25, 33, the prior arts fail to teach or fairly suggest a method comprising:

transmitting a message burst outside a broadcast channel from a base station to a user terminal from which the request burst was received, the message burst being sent in response to a request burst from the user terminal, the message burst including a description of the channels for the radio communication system available for communicating between the base station and user terminal that are registered with the base station; and registering the user terminal with the base station using the description included in the message burst, in combination with other limitation as specified in the independent claims 1, 16, 25, 33.

Regarding claims 41, 57, 64, the prior art fail to teach or fairly suggest a method comprising:

receiving a directed message burst from a base station outside a broadcast channel in response to an access request, the message burst including a description of the channels of a wireless network available for communicating between the base station and user terminals that are registered with the base station; and sending a registration request to the base station using the description contained in the message burst, in combination with other limitations as specified in the independent claims 41, 57, 64.
